Position Description

Position: Classroom Teacher

Reports to: Principal, Deputy Principal Curriculum

Job Scope

‘The teaching and learning process in a Catholic school is designed to reflect the dignity of the human person, a culture of community and a commitment to social justice and service for the common good’. In all dealings associated with teaching the dignity of the person, or people, involved must be of paramount importance.

The College’s teaching and philosophy are grounded in the Gospel of Jesus Christ and the interpretation of the Gospel lived out by Nano Nagle, the founder of the Presentation Sisters and St John Bosco, the founder of the Salesian Society. At Nagle College we believe that through education, we liberate students, give them dignity and the skills required to be productive members of the community and enhance their vocational prospects for the future.

Through our educational programs we aim to equip our students with the skills and capacities to enable them to become independent learners in the globalised 21st Century knowledge society. We understand that strong classroom relationships underpin and inspire effective learning.

We acknowledge that the nature of learners has changed and that the focus has also moved from simply acquiring knowledge, to being able to transfer knowledge and skills within and beyond the classroom. In addition, we encourage an active citizenship where our students have strong foundations for lifelong learning and are prepared to live their lives in the future as independent, active community members who live out the Gospel values and contribute to the common good of society.

In accordance with the College’s Vision Statement as a dynamic and effective learning community we will promote effective teaching and learning through a challenging and relevant curriculum permeated by Catholic values and through the pursuit of academic excellence.
